Sunbeam Old Fashioned white bread "We go through 40 loaves of white bread each week at our shop. This one not only tastes fresh and delicious, but it's also hefty enough to hold lots of sandwich fixin's without falling apart. And it has a good shelf life—it stays fresher longer than other white breads I've tried."

—Mark Salameh, owner of The Sandwich Company restaurant, Jacksonville, FL

Tropicana Pure Premium no pulp orange juice "My family drinks the same juice we serve at our restaurants because it's not from concentrate, making it taste fresher, more citrusy. It's an easy way to get my kids to drink something healthy."

—David Shaw, executive chef, IHOP restaurant support center, Glendale, CA

OxiClean versatile stain remover powder

"I'm a huge fan of this bathroom cleaner at the spa and at home because it polishes tiles without a lot of elbow grease—a good thing when you're cleaning 25 bathrooms a day! Plus, it leaves behind a nice powdery scent."

—Stephanie Rhodes, executive housekeeper at Miraval Resort & Spa, Tucson, AZ

California Olive Ranch extra virgin olive oil "The fresh, fruity taste makes this the perfect olive oil for sautéing. It's also great in a salad dressing or when you're looking for something to drizzle over bread."

—Micki Sannar, author of Olive Oil Desserts and Aroma & Olive Oil

Nature's Path Smart Bran cereal "So many bran cereals taste cardboardy, but this one tastes like real grains. It has 13 grams of fiber per serving, about half your daily needs."

I like to mix it with almond milk and a handful of cashews for breakfast or a snack."

—Keri Glassman, R.D., author of The New You (and Improved!) Diet

Glad ForceFlex OdorShield tall kitchen bags

"My family has stuck entire pizza boxes in these stretchable bags without so much as a pinhole tear. They come with a built-in Febreze odor shield, which is great if you have to go days between trash pickups."

—Dan Reidmiller, creative director of College Hunks Hauling Junk, a national junk removal and moving company

Cascade Complete dishwasher detergent pacs

"We never have to pre-rinse with this detergent. Everything goes straight from the table to the dishwasher. The pods contain a mix of Cascade powder and Dawn gel—simply throw one into the detergent compartment—no spots, no film."

—Katherine Brown, owner of the award-winning Bloomsbury Inn, Camden, SC

La Victoria Thick 'n Chunky salsa and Doritos toasted corn tortilla chips

"This salsa is the closest to homemade I've tasted: chunky tomatoes, crunchy onions, and roasted green chilies make up the base. I serve it with plain Doritos tortilla chips—there's no excess flavoring, so all you taste is the corn and a little salt."

—Al Lucero, owner of Maria's New Mexican Kitchen, Sante Fe, NM

DiGiorno classic thin crust pizza

"I love the crust on this pizza because it's crispy, yet it doesn't crumble into pieces when you eat it. The sauce isn't bland or overly spicy, and there's no shortage of cheese—each bite has just the right amount."

—Craig Agranoff, founder of thepizzaexperts.com

Applegate Naturals reduced sodium Sunday bacon

"This bacon is mostly meat with very little fat, so it cooks up firmer. I like the sweet apple-smoked taste, which adds just the right flavor to my favorite recipes, like bacon candy and bacon bread pudding!"

—Jayne Rockmill, author of I Love Bacon!

Bertolli tomato & basil sauce "I like this sauce's mild taste and slightly chunky tomatoes; it's similar to my homemade marinara sauce. A few tablespoons in my chicken soup flavors the broth and gives it a nice rosy color."

—Sally Maraventano, founder of Cucina Casalinga cooking school, Wilton, CT

Bounty Select-a-Size paper towels

"I always have these on hand, in case one of my kids spills milk or there's a pet accident. The sheets are really soft and absorbent, like wiping up with a cotton cloth. I like that the roll is perforated so you can pull off a regular-size paper towel or a six-inch piece, depending how big the mess is."

—Becky Rapinchuk, blogger, Clean Mama

Häagen-Dazs vanilla ice cream

"This all-natural ice cream has the perfect creamy texture, mostly because they use egg yolks in place of chemical emulsifiers. It has a natural vanilla taste and is perfect on apple pie."

—Malcolm Stogo, author of Incredible Ice Cream

Pop Secret 100 Calorie Pop 94% fat free butter popcorn

"Each handful has just enough butter and salt. I don't feel the need to drink a gallon of water like I do with other popcorn. And it's low in calories, so I can indulge without feeling guilty."

—Betsy Weber, global consumer communications manager at Netflix

Jif creamy peanut butter and Smucker's Concord grape jelly

"I love Jif because it's not lumpy, and it's easy to spread. When I'm making a PB&J sandwich, I use Smucker's grape jelly because it tastes like the kind you find in a doughnut."

—Satema, 7, chef on PBS's Hey Kids, Let's Cook!

Pepperidge Farm Chesapeake dark chocolate pecan cookies

"They're crisp but not hard to bite through. Every mouthful is loaded with dark chocolate chunks and pecans, plus they're about 25% larger than your standard chocolate chip cookie."

—Julia M. Usher, author of Ultimate Cookies

Marzetti classic ranch dressing

"I always have a bottle of this in my fridge to drizzle on salads or use as a quick dip for veggies. It's not too thick, so it doesn't drown the lettuce, and the peppery buttermilk flavor has a nice kick."

—Jennifer Chandler, author of Simply Salads
